TWO CENTS

SERIES OF FIRES DO MUCH DAMAGE AT DONORA MONDAY NIGHT

Five Alarms Keep Fire Department on Run Most of the Night

ATTEMPT MADE IN WEBSTER

Donora was in a state of excitement Monday night caused by a series of fires which began at 9:25 o'clock and which kept up at intervals until one o'clock this morning. In addition to these fires an attempt was made at 6:30 this morning to destroy the Webster garage, owned by Walter Greenwood and located across the river from Donora. The fire was discovered by John Hardesty, who ran to the home of Greenwood and roused him, and together the men went to the garage. As they approached the building they saw a large plume of smoke coming from the roof and a fire on the roof. He was pursued to his home, and the Donora police notified. They responded in a few minutes and shortly after arrested a Russian named Frank Karna, who is employed at the Donora zinc works.

The fire at the garage was found in a truck which had been saturated with gasoline from its own tank, and then fired. It was put out before any material damage was done.

In Donora it is estimated that the losses sustained will be about $30,000.

The first alarm summoned the fire department to Meldon avenue, where a garage and warehouse was discovered on fire. This building was only a shell and was partially destroyed.

The second alarm was sounded at 10:30 when a large cement tenement house owned by the Donora Construction company was discovered on fire. In this building were several families, all of whom were rescued, but considerable of their furniture was damaged by the fire. The third alarm came at 11:30, caused by another fire at the place of the first alarm, and at 12:30 an alarm came from the adjacent yard of the Marston-Gass Lumber company, located below the river bridge. Considerable lumber and 900 sacks of cement were destroyed before the fire was under control.

At one o'clock this morning the fifth alarm was sounded by a fire in the West Penn Power plant, located below the Marston-Gass Lumber yard. The plant of the Gulf Refining company is located between these two points, and several thousand gallons of gasoline are stored there.

After the second alarm a call was sent to Monongahela for its fire department, which responded quickly and assisted the local firemen in the work.

Residents became convinced that the fires were the result of incendiaryism and under direction of the police began an investigation. The arrest of the man Karna at an early hour this morning will, it is believed,

Board of Health Advises Precaution in Buying Supplies

A meeting of the Board of Health and foodstuffs for sale. After a short discussion the Health Officer was instructed to take action against all fruit dealers and other stores exposing fruit and foodstuffs for sale without being screened, according to law, and in proper sanitary condition. On Monday Health Officer Darby found it necessary to take charge of a fruit store on McKean avenue for a short time until the proprietor could be brought to a realization of his duties in the matter. His fruits were exposed without covering, and the Health Officer simply shut off business until the owner complied with the regulations. Other stores which were exposing food stuffs for sale without covering were also notified to keep them screened or suffer the penalty provided by law.

The Board before adjourning, passed a resolution advising the general public to use proper precaution in purchasing fruits and food supplies, in view of epidemics prevailing in communities outside of Charleroi.

STIFF SENTENCE FOR COAL COMMITTEES AUTOMOBILE THEFT MEET THIS EVENING

Leonard Eatch, of Monongahela, appeared before Judge J. A. McIlvaine in court at Washington on Monday, and entered a plea of guilty to the larceny of an automobile. He claimed that he had not intended to keep the machine, but that he only wanted to take a ride. The court, however, was of the opinion that this is done too frequently. He was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $1 and to a term in the Western Penitentiary of from two to ten years.

The car, a new Buick machine, belonged to W. M. Chase of Monongahela. On last Thursday evening he left it on the street in Monongahela. This was about 7 o'clock. Shortly after Eatch came along and drove off in it. He went to Monessen and after going to a picture show got a friend and two women and was about to start on a joy ride when an officer arrested him. The arrest occurred about 10:30 o'clock the same night.

SUGAR PRICES CUT TO 14 CENTS A POUND
The Federal Sugar Refining company has just reduced its price of refined sugars 25 points to 14 cents less 2 per cent for cash for the fine granulated. This action follows the announcement by Arbuckle Brothers that they would consider business at 14 cents less 2 per cent.

Southbound Passenger Train Strikes Little Girl and Death Results

MOTHER SAW THE ACCIDENT

Mary Stancovic, aged four years and ten months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Stancovic, was killed by a southbound passenger train on the tracks of the Monongahela Division at Roscoe, about 8 o'clock this morning. The mother is said to have seen the accident, and is in such a state of collapse as to be unable to give any of the details concerning the accident. The little girl was hit by the train and her death was evidently instantaneous. She was struck on the head, no bruises were found on the body, nor was it mutilated.

How the little girl happened to be on the track at that hour is not stated, as no details have yet been obtained from the mother. The accident happened a short distance below the Roscoe station. Morning trains south bound this morning were running late, owing to some accident north of Monongahela. Train 7700 was one hour late, and train 7842 was also several minutes late in reaching Charleroi. It was one of these trains which struck the little girl and caused her death.

The body was taken to the Hancock undertaking rooms where it was prepared for burial. The accident will also be reported to Coroner Greenlee, who will no doubt make an investigation of the circumstances connected with the accident.

LABOR IS SCARCE ON RIVER WORK

A scarcity of labor prevails at present on all government work on the Monongahela river. It is said that government officials have had employment agents at Akron, Ohio, for some time in an endeavor to secure men to work on the new lock and dam at No. 6, located at Rices Landing. Weather conditions at present are ideal for work of this kind, and a great deal has been done in the way of making progress, but much yet remains to be done before the contract is completed. A portion of the force at Lock No. 4 has been transferred to No. 6 to hurry along the work at that place. The improvements there will not be finished before winter weather sets in.

ACTION IS BROUGHT AGAINST AN ESTATE

Phillip Snow of Charleroi has filed a suit against Della F. Campbell, administratrix of the estate of Della J. Snow, late of Charleroi, to recover place. The improvements there for will not be finished before winter money paid out and expended by the plaintiff in and about the purchase, maintenance and repair of certain real estate owned by Della J. Snow. In a suit filed by John D. Campbell against the Della J. Snow estate, he claims $1,255.29 for money paid out and expended and for work and labor done and materials furnished in the maintenance of certain real estate belonging to Della J. Snow.

FOUR FUNDAMENTAL DIFFERENCES

Enumerating four fundamental differences between the two major parties, the Republican Publicity Association through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., issues the following:

"For some ulterior purpose which it would be difficult to imagine, some publicists are asserting that there is really no difference between the two old parties. Just at the present time propaganda of that sort would tend to help the Republican cause, for the Republicans are fortunate in having as their nominees men whose personalities commend them to the favor of the electorate. Mr. Harding is a successful business man, an experienced statesman, an able orator, warm-blooded, fair and generous in his dealings with his fellow men, and without a personal enemy in the world. Mr. Coolidge is also a man who worked his way up from the ranks, simple in his manner of living, successful in private business and in public affairs and possessor of that personal courage which always wins the admiration of the American people. His handling of the policemen's strike made him a hero in the eyes of the American voters. The two Republican nominees are running on their own merits. Mr. Cox is put forth as 'absolutely at one' with President Wilson, and Franklin D. Roosevelt is paraded as fifth cousin to Colonel Roosevelt. So far as personalities go, the Republicans have far the best of the situation, but it is not true that there is no difference between the parties.

"The Republicans stand now as they have always stood, for a protective tariff which will promote America First. The Democratic platform reaffirms the traditional policy of the party on the subject of the tariff, which policy is that a protective tariff is not only unwise from an economic standpoint, but in violation of the Constitution.

"The Republican party stands now as it has always stood for agreement among the nations for the preservation of peace and for gradual disarmament. The Democratic party stands uncompromisingly for 'The league of nations' in the form proposed by President Wilson, without any reservations to protect the rights and independence of America. Republicans insist upon preservation of American independence; Democrats demand that America make the 'supreme sacrifice.'

"The Republican party stands for economy and retrenchment, as evidenced by the cutting of two and a half billions from the demands of the Wilson Administration. The end continuance of war-time expenditures as evidenced by their refusal to cut down the number of war-time government employees until compelled to do so, and by their continued demands for large appropriations after peace had been restored.

"The Republican party endeavors to aid and encourage the good people of America—the lawabiding, peaceful and thrifty. The Democratic Administration denounced the coal strikers as criminals and then congratulated them on their patriotism when the reluctantly went back to work after the administration compromised with them. The Wilson Administration interfered in behalf of I. W. W. murdered Mooney, whose execution was protested by the Lenin-Trotsky crowd in Russia. The Democratic Administration has kept on its payrolls numerous agitators of socialistic complexion. The Republican party teaches the doctrine of work and enterprise and thrift; the Democratic party discourages enterprise and panders to the spirit of unrest.

"The above are only four fundamental differences between the Republican and Democratic parties. Many more might be cited, but these are of such vital importance that they completely refute the assertion that no difference exists.

LAND OF OPPORTUNITY.

The other day, one Peter Vidovitch, a San Francisco miner, arrived in New York on his way home to Siberia. He was taken sick, removed to a hospital, and died. In his handbag were found $200,000 in securities, bank books showing deposits of $60,000 in San Francisco, and Fairbanks, Alaska, a money belt containing $1,900 cash, $5,000 worth of jewelry, a large gold nugget, several deeds to Fairbanks property, and a will giving all his wealth to relatives in Austria.

This case is an indication, probably an extreme one, but an illustration just the same, of what is going on all the time in the United States. Thousands of immigrants come to our shores with no intention whatever of becoming American citizens and making their permanent homes in the United States. They come here solely to enjoy for a brief period the high wages made possible for them, our enlightened laws which enable them to live in safety and comparative comfort while they are with us, and the opportunities for employment which are offered them on every hand. Their ambition is to accumulate sufficient fortune to enable them to return to their own countries and live in luxury according to their own standards for the rest of their lives.

Our laws offer no obstacles to their plans, either in entering the country, making their money, or in again leaving for home. Rather do our institutions guarantee them perfect freedom in taking as much wealth from our shores as they can. But this is a form of European contribution of which we never hear. How many millions of dollars leave this country every year on the persons of such men as Peter Vidovitch cannot be computed, but the sum total would be quite a revelation to us if it could be known. Those who think the United States is inclined to hoard its resources should consider the facts.

In the three-quarters of a century between 1791 and 1865 only two amendments were added to the Federal Constitution. Of late we have added one almost every year, and if all the demands for new ones are to be met we are likely to find ourselves voting another about every Tuesday and Friday.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THE COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION, AT THE ELECTION TO BE HELD ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1920, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

Number One.
A JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing an amendment to section eleven of article sixteen of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:

Amend section eleven, article sixteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

"No corporate body to possess banking and discounting privileges shall be created or organized in pursuance of any law without three months' previous public notice, at the place of the intended location, of the intention to apply for such privilege in such manner as shall be prescribed by law, nor shall a charter for such privilege be granted for a longer period than twenty years," so that it shall read as follows:

The General Assembly shall have the power by general law to provide for the incorporation of banks and trust companies and to prescribe the powers thereof.

Number Two.
A JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing an amendment to Article nine, section eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:

That article nine, section eight, be amended to read as follows:

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as provided herein and in section fifteen of this article, shall never exceed seven (7) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, but the debt of the city of Philadelphia may be increased in such amount that the total city debt of said city shall not exceed ten per centum (10) upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be deducted from such debt so much of the debt of said city as shall have been incurred, or is about to be incurred, and the proceeds thereof expended, upon any public improvement, or in the construction, purchase, or condemnation of any public utility, or part thereof, or facility therefor. If such public improvement or public utility, or part thereof, whether separately or in connection with any other public improvement or public utility, or part thereof, may reasonably be expected to yield revenue in excess of operating expenses sufficient to pay the interest and sinking-fund charges thereon. The method of determining such amount, so to be deducted, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity, the payment to such sinking-fund to be in equal graded annual or other periodical installments. Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city of Philadelphia for the purpose of the construction or improvement of public works or utilities of any character, from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city, or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city, such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for, and may include the amount of, the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction, and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred, and said obligations shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges as required by section ten, article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work.

PAROLE OFFENDERS WERE AGAIN FINED

Joe and Mary Shimrock of Marianna were before court at Washington on Monday on a charge of having violated their parole. Some time ago they entered pleas of guilty to violating the liquor laws. They were each sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $500 and to three months in the county jail. They were paroled upon the payment of the costs and $300 each.

It seems that Parole Officer F. H. Mitchell learned that they were making raisin whiskey and he brought them before court on a charge of violating their parole. Joe Shimrock informed the court that a storekeeper at Marianna named Hecht had told them that the parole was no good, and wanted them to buy raisins. It appears they did buy a quantity and started to make more raisin whiskey when they were caught by the parole officer.

On commenting on this Judge McIlvaine said: "Those who sell raisins to foreigners, knowing that they are going to make whiskey with them, are aiding and abetting the crime and are equally guilty."

The court re-paroled the Shimrocks upon the payment of $200 more of the fine and their promise to quit making whiskey.

NEW YORK GOAL OF PILGRIMS

Their Original Intention Was to Found a Colony There, but Plans Were Frustrated.

The Pilgrim Fathers might have founded New York if it had not been for the bridling of the Mayflower skipper by the Dutch, who persuaded him to keep the Pilgrims from the mouth of the great river, which they planned to settle with a colony of their own.

The ancient charter of the Pilgrims gave them land which probably included New York. The patent was granted to them after they fled from the Virginia company. This grant was not exactly the instrument the Pilgrims wanted, because of its religious provisions. The Pilgrims wished to get a patent that would permit them the fullest liberty of worship, but the king refused to give them a charter in which a definite stipulation of religious freedom was contained. So they were forced to content themselves with the Virginia patent. It being suggested by their sympathizers that in the wilderness they would probably not be disturbed.

Little Known of Frogs.

Along the rivers and streams in some parts of Texas, and around the margins of ponds and lakes, we meet with great beds of the water hyacinths, says the American Forestry Magazine. Their delicate white flowers and dark green leaves present a picture of floral luxuriance not very easily forgotten. Where they grow, one should be on the lookout for various species of reptiles or batrachians, and their habits and appearances in nature carefully observed. We know very little about some of the forms, and science will welcome any new facts in regard to them. Some of the frogs and toads, for example, are not only very rare in collections, but we are practically lacking in any field notes upon their exact distribution and habits.

Modern Cereals Superior.

The wheat and barley of today are much larger and finer grains than the wheat and barley which have been found in ancient Egyptian tombs and in the buried cities of Greece. As for rice, which feeds more than one-third of the human race, there are now a number of varieties (developed chiefly by the Japanese) which are far superior to any that were known even half a century ago.

All of our grains, excepting maize, seem to have originated in southern Asia. Consumption of rice, the great Asiatic cereal, is now growing rapidly in the United States, most of our people having learned only recently to appreciate it, and how to prepare it for the table.

In Germany there is a newspaper that has nothing in it but stories about rheumatism. People having this trouble write in their experiences, doctors tell new ways to get rid of it and it seems that everybody there having rheumatism subscribes to this queer newspaper. Some years ago a Russian editor started a postcard-size newspaper, the print of which was so small that he furnished a magnifying glass to each of his regular subscribers. Somehow the idea didn't take, as he only printed a few numbers before finding out that the people didn't appreciate the idea, even though the magnifying glass was furnished free.

"What am I to talk to my lady partner about?" asked a young man about to go to his first party, of an elderly friend.

"Surely you'll talk about the most pleasing question of all—her beauty."

"But if she doesn't happen to be beautiful?"

"No matter, she'll take your word for it."

Sterling Tires

Oh yes! The tread will wear out if you run it long enough. But we have seen lots of STERLINGS with the tread still good after 10,000 miles, 15,000 miles, even up to 20,000.

And any Ford owner who gets less than 10,000 miles from a STERLING 30 x 3 1/2 must blame accident—underinflation or overloading.

That mileage is built into the tires.

We are now direct factory distributors for the STERLING TIRE CORPORATION of Rutherford, New Jersey.

PESKY BED BUGS

(Pesky Devils Quietus) P. D. Q. is a new chemical that puts the crawling to the Pesky bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants and cockroaches—impossible for the pesky devils to exist where P. D. Q. is used.

Recommendations of Hotels, Hospitals, Railroad Companies and other public institutions are a guarantee to the public that the use of P. D. Q. is the most economical way of ridding the pesky insect is by the use of P. D. Q. as this chemical kills the eggs as well as the live ones, and will not injure the clothing.

A 35c package makes a full quart; enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants, and cockroaches. Also contains a patent sprayer to get the egg now in the hard-to-get-at places and saves juice.

Special Hospital also $2.50 makes a gallon. Contains three times as much as the 35c package. Will kill all insects excepted by law, either side, by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind.—never peddled.
